Descrizione

From the small square at the end of the village Forno Alpi Graie, starts on the right a wide dirt road. It passes the bridge over the stream Gura. It continues on the orographic right bank and enter the forest (path n. 315). After having passed a steep rocky wall, the path makes some turns on the left, and then continues north-west on a moderate slope. Once reached a large peculiar rock, you have to turn left on grassy hills, and following a ridge, you arrive to group of chalets. The path continues behind these buildings, passes near an isolated hut, and then, uphill, reaches a long plateau. After having crossed some streams, the path arrives at the stream Gura (on the left, a secondary track connects to path n. 316). You have to cross the two branches of the torrent on the available temporary pathways, and walking northwest describing a wide semicircle, you arrive to Gias Milon (1993 m). You pass the houses and turn right (north) on a stone paved track below a rocky wall. When you reach the altitude of 2120 m, you turn left into a long plateau where do stand the houses of Gias Gran Pian (2132 m). At the end of the plateau, turn right, and go up the steep grassy hill where is Refuge Daviso.
