Descrizione

From the Refuge we descend the old mule track to Lake Losere, passing the junctions with the road that leads to the Nivolet Hill. The mule track descends slightly along the valley coasting the pleasant Lake Losere, with a breath-taking view over the Levanne and Lake Serru. The Pathway then evens out, crossing over some streams and the Videsott pathway that ascends from Chiapili di Sopra. Here you can admire the valley from a number of hunting posts, some of which are still perfectly intact. From here, the mule track starts to climb more steeply, but consistently until the Colle della Terra from where in just two minutes you can reach Punta Rocchetta with its eye-catching view over Ceresole Lake and the valley below. The place is just a ten minute descent to the wonderful Lake Lillet, nestling under a rocky wall. From the Lake, we return to the upward-sloping scree track, quickly joining Route 540 ascending from Mua-Ceresole. Keeping to the left, the pathway quickly reaches the Colle della Porta 3002 m. From the Pass, the ancient Royal Hunting Road descends offering some glimpses over the opposite side, amongst snowfields and stone debris, towards the Bivouac Giraudo. At approximately 2700 m, we leave the mule track as it veers to the right, continuing left along tracks winding between the large slabs of a quarry all the way to Lago della Piatta and the nearby Bivouac Giraudo 2630 m (sleeps 6, always open, water nearby).
