Descrizione

From the colle Crest we follow the Ribordone slope to a vast hollow, known as Pian delle Masche 1997 m (Ore 2,30 dal Santuario) once considered a meeting place for witches. From here, we follow the G.T.A. route along a passage hewn from the rock (a flagstone quarry), to descend into Guaria valley, first past the Alpi le Goie 1864 m and then Ciavanis 1727 m. From here, the path takes a slight climb halfway up the hill and then starts down again through a wood of beech trees and larch trees, along the left slope of the valley, all the way to the houses of Masonaie. (Ore 2 from Pian delle Masche). From here we continue along the quiet, asphalted road for around 1.3 kilometres. On the right, a few metres from a small votive chapel (with wooden figures) we descend the old mule track (look out for the junction marked by signposts and signs on stones), and after passing through a beautiful wood we arrive at the Stavalle huts 889 m and Rastut. From here the route continues along Stage 11 of the AVC itinerary, which starts in Convento and continues towards Ingria and Bech.
