Descrizione

From the Genova-Figari hut, go back down the valley to an altitude of 1950 m. The ENEL service road goes up to underpass the spillway canal of the Chiotàs reservoir and reaches the large dam of the same name where, at the northern end of its crown (1980 m), the mule track begins, which enters the Chiapous Valley. In a series of hairpin bends, the mule track gains height on the open valley, first on the orographic left, then, at 2350 m, it passes on the right-hand side along detrital and rocky slopes. At the terminal cirque, the mule-track branches off to the left first to the little path that goes up to the Porco Passage, then the track for the Chiapous Passage, and finally, with a slow ascent it reaches the Rovina-Gesso della Valletta ridge, where, near the ruins of an ex-military shelter, the Chiapous Pass (2526 m) opens up, the arrival point of the mule-track coming from the Morelli-Buzzi Refuge.
From the hut on an easy mule track you can reach Terme di Valdieri, the arrival point of Stage 10 and the entire itinerary.
